SEVERE CHINESE SHIPPING DELAYS - TYPHOON RUMBIA

We wish to advise that there are severe delays, congestion and scheduling changes out of all Chinese ports due to Typhoon Rumbia which has brought torrential rains and strong winds. This is the 18th Typhoon to hit China this year and affects an already backlogged and congested system.

Due to weeks of very poor weather conditions many vessels are omitting ports without advanced notice to catch up on lost time and we are currently experiencing very disrupted schedules and backlogged cargo especially in Shanghai and Ningbo.

We at SCT are monitoring the situation very closely with our agents and shipping lines in order to find the best possible solutions for all our freight and will keep you updated as best as possible on all your shipments, but we caution that there is every likelihood of delays that are beyond our control. Please be assured we are doing all we can to prevent delays.

If you have any concerns which have not been covered by recent updates, please contact Samantha Jones immediately – samantha.jones@sctsolutions.co.za

We thank you for your continued support and partnership
