28 April 2020

Subsequent to our newsflash dated Thursday 23rd, relative to the more vigilant regulations with regard to the importation of PPE equipment and particularly face masks and the regulations for NRCS and SAHPRA approval, it appears that more stringent application of these measures will be applied but ITAC have indicated that due to the current crisis and desperate need for masks that they will accept a sales permit to process temporary approval. The process of application must be submitted by the importer and not an agent and we have downloaded for your attention all the relevant NRCS documentation, instructions, forms and costs for application which are attached herein. Please review these forms in detail and make the necessary application prior to importation. Whilst the process is not entirely clear we believe it prudent that you apply, supply all the necessary test reports and photographs from your supplier, pay the fees and submit the sales permit application.
