National Shut Down – ATDF Strike

Please note that in spite of a court interdict being obtained, the ATDF (All Truck Drivers Forum) has gone ahead with their plans to strike today. Their grievance is that foreign truck drivers were employed during Levels 4 and 5 of the lock down and not South African citizens.

While the situation is constantly changing, we have heard reports of trucks being burned near the Marian Hill Toll Plaza on the N3 as well as 2 trucks being petrol bombed on the N7.

At this point our truckers are on high alert and will not move any cargo unless it is deemed safe to do so. Any clients directly affected by this are being contacted by our Operations Team. The safety of drivers as well as your cargo will be taken into account prior to any cargo being dispatched.

The initial notification was that the strike would be for today only, however, if their demands are not met this could change.

As the situation progresses we will continue to send updates.
