

Two updates relative to Covid -19 Lockdown and the impact on logistics

(1) ROAD FREIGHT COLLECTIONS EX PORT

The booking systems for both essential and non-essential cargo still remains problematic and the combination of this together with reduced resources on the ground in the port of Durban has led to significant trucking queues. Our freight associations and that of the road transporters are dealing with the port authorities and shipping lines to try and resolve this. Some truckers have been reporting that they have been two to three days in the queue. We will keep you updated and hope this situation is resolved shortly .
