COVID-19 Update

Overnight we have received the following information from various contacts. We note that it has not been received through official channels, however, our commitment to our customers is to pass on all information as we receive it. Once any information is confirmed we will update accordingly.

- Only goods classified as essential will move.
- Permits for movement are to be obtained from the SAPS, however, no clarification as to how this will happen.
- TPT Point 1 will continue to operate with 1 berth working.
- Island View, which receives fuel, will continue to operate.
- TNPA (Transnet National Ports Authority) and TPT (Transnet Port Terminals) have not yet met to discuss the situation. We are very hopeful that this meeting will take place soon.

We note again that no clarity has been provided on how containers which are not considered essential will be handled. At this point, clearing agents and shipping lines are still unclear as to how to proceed. We will continue to push for clarification and will update you as soon as information becomes available.
