Update: Ports in South Africa

1. Ngqura

The attached communication from Transnet refers.

Operations at the port have been suspended until further notice. During severe weather conditions a vessel lost containers overboard and until these are located it is cannot be confirmed that it is safe for vessels to pass through.

2. Durban

Piers 1 and 2 have both confirmed that operations are proceeding as normal with no significant delays.

3. Cape Town

After issues with the weather recently the port is currently operational, however, due to COVID-19 related staff shortages there is no night shift. The port is running with a staff capacity of around 40%.
